Doug Goodridge, CTO, Williams Racing

Doug joined Williams Racing as IT Director before stepping into the role of Chief Information Officer to look after all IT and Technology related aspects of the team.

A large part of his career has been spent in the financial services sector aiding several FTSE100 clients with complex global data, voice and security programmes before shifting focus in 2010.

In the decade preceding Doug joining Williams he worked predominantly within the UK public sector, including many government and military related organisations. Much of his work has focused on large-scale transformation programmes, with Doug being the driving force behind many complex solutions and service offerings, whilst also acting as a mentor and leader for various engineering teams.

Doug is a true trouble-shooter at heart. With nearly three decades of experience working with information technology, he brings a broad mix of both technical and organisational skills to the brand.
